

Help the Unemployed Become Employed

“Unemployment in the county’s two largest cities, Los Angeles and Long Beach, remained above 8 percent.” – Los Angeles Business Journal 1/23/15

Los Angeles Valley College’s LA Fellows program is a unique collaboration combining professional development and volunteerism as a meaningful pathway to employment. LA Fellows receive nine weeks of free training in advanced job-seeking skills and executive-level topics including leadership, critical thinking, and generating job leads.

LA Fellows give back! During their nine-week course, Fellows share their professional expertise through project-based roles at local nonprofit organizations. To date, more than 300 individuals have completed the program while donating more than 30,000 hours of skilled volunteer time to the local community resulting in nearly $810,000 of in-kind contributions to the LA area.

A highly recognized program, LA Fellows has appeared in Forbes.com, the New York Times, KTLA Channel 5 news, and has been spotlighted by the Department of Labor.
